Over 5,700 Kashmiri migrants given Govt Jobs: Nityanand Rai

NEW DELHI, Aug 6 (Agencies): Around 5,724 Kashmiri migrants have been given Government jobs under the Prime Minister's Development Package-2015 and Prime Minister's Reconstruction Plan, the Minister of State for Home Affairs Nityanand Rai said on Tuesday.

Replying to an unstarred question in Lok Sabha, MoS Rai said, "Unemployed youth are also being facilitated to get financial assistance under selfemployment schemes." The Government has also taken several steps for the security of Kashmiri migrants including robust security and intelligence grid, group security in form of static guards, round-the-clock nakas at the strategic points, night patrolling and area domination, identification of vulnerable spots, security arrangement through appropriate deployment and intensified cordon and search operations, the MoS highlighted. The cash assistance of Rs 3,250 per person to eligible Kashmiri

Delegation from ALTA, candidates aspiring for post of constable in Ladakh Police call on LG Mishra

Top News Report

LEH, Aug 6: A delegation comprising members of All Ladakh Transport Association (ALTA) led by its Chairman, Dorje Angchuk, called on the Lieutenant Governor of Ladakh, Brigadier (Dr) BD Mishra (Retd), at the Lieutenant Governor's Secretariat. Advisor to the LG, Dr Pawan Kotwal, IAS; ADGP Ladakh, Dr SD Singh Jamwal, IPS; Commissioner/Secretary to the LG. L Franklin; DC Leh, Santosh Sukhadeve, IAS and SSP Leh, Shruti Arora, IPS, were also in the meeting.

Informing that eight unions are working as cooperative societies in Ladakh, Angchuk highlighted the recent instructions issued by the Ladakh Police authorities to remove their personnel from the checkpoints installed at various places in Leh.

He requested the LG to allow their personnel to operate at checkpoints.

The LG informed the members of ALTA regarding the issues flagged by other state transporters holding All India permit, the Indian Army and locals regarding the forceful unloading of loads from trucks by personnel of the local Truck Union to enable local trucks to ferry construction materials/ loads to interior parts of Ladakh.

He also informed the members of ALTA regarding the consequent need to provide security escorts for trucks carrying materials to install mobile towers in Ladakh.

Assuring to protect their rights, the LG stated that the UT Administration would follow the law and asked members of ALTA to do the same and not to stop the operation of trucks with valid national permits within Ladakh He also stated that the economic interest of the locals would be protected and asked the members of ALTA to hold a meeting with DC Leh and SSP Leh to discuss the issue

A delegation comprising candidates aspiring for the post of constable in Ladakh Police led by Feroz Ahmed called on the Lieutenant Governor of Ladakh, Brigadier (Dr) BD Mishra (Retd), at the LG Secretariat. Advisor to the LG, Dr Pawan Kotwal, IAS; ADGP Ladakh, Dr SD Singh Jamwal, IPS; Commissioner/Secretary to the LG, L Franklin, IAS and AIG (Personnel), Stanzin Norboo, were present in the meeting. Feroz informed the HLG that the appointment of 26 candidates who had appeared and cleared the recruitment examination for the post of constable in Ladakh Police has been withheld and requested clarappointment Advisor to the LG, Dr Pawan Kotwal, informed the LG that reservation policy is followed during the recruitment process

ification regarding their and 26 posts out of 209 were reserved for the economically weaker section (EWS) class. He also informed that only a few candidates had EWS certificates following which Ladakh Police has sought clarification if the posts reserved under EWS could be dereserved and transferred to Scheduled Tribe (ST) candidates. He further stated that the Home Department informed the Ladakh Police that there is no such provision and existing rules may need to be amended for the de-reservation of posts. Dr Kotwal stated that the majority of the candidates would have been absorbed into Ladakh Police had the reserve list been operated. The LG inquired about the delay in operating the reserve list so that the majority of the 26 candidates could be absorbed into Ladakh Police. He highlighted the need to do it at the earliest for the convenience and benefit of aspiring candidates.

Development Projects

evelopment projects are essential for advancing societies, improving living standards, and fostering economic growth. These projects can range from infrastructure development to social programs and technological advancements. Here's an overview of different types of development projects and their impacts:

Infrastructure projects are the backbone of development. They include building roads, bridges, railways, airports, and ports, which are critical for facilitating transportation and trade. Additionally, infrastructure projects involve the development of utilities such as water supply, sewage systems, and electricity grids. For instance, the construction of highways can significantly reduce travel time, enhance connectivity, and boost economic activity by linking remote areas with major cities.

Urban development projects focus on improving the living conditions in cities and towns. These projects involve constructing residential, commercial, and recreational facilities, as well as upgrading existing urban infrastructure. Key components include affordable housing schemes, public transportation systems, and green spaces. Effective urban planning can help alleviate issues such as overcrowding, pollution, and inadequate public services, contributing to a higher quality of life for residents.

Social development projects aim to improve the well-being of individuals and communities. These initiatives often address issues such as education, healthcare, and social welfare. Examples include building schools and hospitals, implementing vaccination programs, and creating job training opportunities. By investing in human capital, social development projects help to reduce inequality and promote inclusive growth.

Economic development projects focus on stimulating economic growth and creating job opportunities. These projects can include establishing industrial parks, supporting small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs), and promoting tourism. Economic development initiatives often involve incentives for businesses, such as tax breaks or grants, to encourage investment and innovation. By diversifying the economy and supporting entrepreneurship, these projects help to create a resilient and dynamic economic environment.

Environmental development projects are designed to address ecological challenges and promote sustainability. These projects include reforestation efforts, waste management programs, and renewable energy initiatives. For example, installing solar panels and wind turbines can reduce reliance on fossil fuels and lower greenhouse gas emissions. Environmental projects are crucial for combating climate change, preserving natural resources, and ensuring a healthy environment for future generations. Technological development projects focus on advancing technology to drive progress and efficiency. These projects can involve research and development (R&D) in fields such as information technology, biotechnology, and renewable energy. Investing in technology infrastructure, such as high-speed internet and data centers, can enhance connectivity and innovation. Technology development projects often lead to new products and services that can improve everyday life and create economic opportunities. Rural development projects aim to enhance the quality of life in rural areas. These initiatives often focus on improving agricultural practices, providing access to education and healthcare, and developing local infrastructure. For instance, projects that introduce modern farming techniques can increase crop yields and income for farmers. Additionally, rural development efforts can include building roads and schools to support community growth and reduce migration to urban areas. Development projects can have significant positive impacts, including economic growth, improved living standards, and environmental sustainability. However, they also face challenges such as funding constraints, bureaucratic hurdles, and potential negative effects on local communities. Effective project management, stakeholder engagement, and careful planning are essential to address these challenges and ensure successful outcomes. In summary, development projects play a crucial role in shaping societies and economies. By focusing on infrastructure, urban and social development, economic growth, environmental sustainability, technology, and rural enhancement, these projects contribute to a more prosperous and equitable world.

Emerging Careers in Artificial intelligence Ethics & Compliances

By: Vijay GarG

he significance of AI (Artificial Intelligence) is rapidly transforming the industries and reshaping the future while bringing out the importance of its ethics and compliance. A career in AI Ethics and Compliance ensures that AI technologies are developed and deployed responsibly, that complies with social norms, ethical standards, and legal requirements. This article highlights some of the promising prospects and career paths in AI Ethics and Compliance, skills required, including roles and responsibilities and reasons behind its demand.

Professions in AI Ethics and Compliance 1. AI Ethics Consultant

They are experts in counselling companies on the ethics in AI implications and their AI systems. They assist businesses in navigating through the complex landscape of the ethical usage of AI accidentally perpetuate bias, violate privacy or cause any harm. Consultants can create ethical rules, conduct audits involving ethics, and provide recommendations for enhancing AI procedures.

Skills Required: To be an AI Ethics Consultant you need to have a strong knowledge of AI technologies and their impacts. Secondly, you should have the proficiency in philosophy and ethical theory, you will also have to be familiar with regulatory frameworks and compliance norms and finally you need to have excellent communication capabilities and analytical skills. Education: To become an AI Ethics Consultant, you need to have knowledge in Computer Science, Ethics, Law, or in a related field. Degrees such as Masters, PhD in Ethics or Artificial Intelligence can be useful. Acquiring experience from internships, research or from previous companies can prove to be beneficial.

2. AI Compliance Officer

AI Compliance Officer ensure that organizations follow all legal and regulations encompassing AI. This could include monitoring application of industry rules, company policies, and protection laws concerning data. Some of them may participate in the development of compliance frameworks and carrying out internal audits.

Skills Required: You need to have deep knowledge about the regulations of AI and data protection laws. Besides, you need to familiar with industry standards, like ISO, CCPA, and GDPR, should have excellent analytical and organizational skills, and ability to implement and interpret complicated rules in real-life situations.

Education: The post will require a background in law, regulatory affairs, or compliance. In addition, one needs to have great knowledge about AI technologies. Professional qualifications in data protection or compliance may present advantages in the search for employment. Previous experience in legal or regulatory positions would also be useful, especially in the IT or AI industries themselves.

3. AI Ethics Researcher

AI ethics researchers carry out studies and experiments concerning the effects of such ethical problems regarding AI systems. They write articles, contribute scholarly research, and insight toward the achievement of best practices and ethical standards.

Required Skills: You should have knowledge about AI technology, philosophy and ethic theory and strong analytic and research capabilities including you should have the ability to design, organize and carry out research projects and finally you need to have the ability to write up and publish research findings.

Education: An AI ethics researcher would normally require an advanced degree, such as a Master's or Ph.D. in ethics, philosophy, AI, or a related discipline. The individual must have experience in the academic or research domain with publications or peer-reviewed journal papers. Collaborative experiences with think tanks or research institutes may prove very useful.

4. AI Ethics Researcher

Researchers in ethics for AI do this by investigating and testing these AI systems for their consequences. They publish articles and make scholarly research contributions with insights that support the making of best practices and ethical norms.

Required Skills: You need to have knowledge of AI technology, philosophy, and ethical theory, solid analytical and research skills, have the ability to plan, organize, conduct research projects, and finally you need to have the ability to write up and publish the results of a study. Education: An AI ethics researcher would typically need an advanced degree, such as a Master's or Ph.D. degree, in Ethics, Philosophy, AI, or any other related area. Experience in academia or research is often required, further detailed by peer-reviewed journal papers. The research collaboration with think tanks or research institutes also adds up to bring valuable experiences.

5. AI Fairness Engineer The fairness engineers are responsible for ensuring that recommended AI systems are developed and deployed in ways that minimize bias and are fair to all. The responsibilities include developing algorithms that identify and reduce bias, fairness audits, and solution development for fair outcomes.

Skills Required: You need to be proficient in AI and Machine learning technologies, you should know strategies for prejudice reduction and fairness, skilled in data analysis and programming skills, and finally you need to have the ability to work in multidisciplinary teams.

Education: The incumbent for this will require familiarity with computer science, data science, or engineering with a basic understanding of machine learning and fairness. Advanced degrees in data science, machine learning, or AI could be advantageous. Experience in developing or evaluating AI systems for fairness could be helpful.

6. AI Transparency Specialist

AI transparency experts are charged with increasing the accountability and understandability of AI systems and making the AI decision-making process transparent and intelligible to all relevant stakeholders. This includes creating clear documentation and developing approaches for interpretability.

Required Skills: You need to have experience with interpretability techniques and AI technologies, excellent documentation and communication skills, experience in collaboration with technical and non-technical stakeholders, including understanding of accountability and transparency frameworks.

Education: Basically, it takes experience in designing or implementing interpretability approaches and a background in computer science, artificial intelligence, or some related field to take up the role of an AI transparency specialist. Certifications or graduate degrees in data science or artificial intelligence can be useful. Prior experience in technical writing or similar positions where technical communication occurred is also useful.

7. Ethical AI Product Manager

AI Product Managers ensure that, throughout their time to live, the development of their AI products is in accordance with ethical guidelines and compliance standards. They partner with engineering, design, and compliance teams to ensure that ethical considerations are aligned in the development and deployment of the products.

Required Skills: In this profession you need to have experience in product management, especially in tech or AI sectors, strong knowledge of AI technologies and ethical considerations, excellent project management and coordination skills, and ability to balance ethical concerns against business objectives.

Education: Advanced degrees or certifications in AI, Ethics, or Business Management can be useful. Besides, gaining experience in the management of Artificial Intelligence projects or products and good knowledge of ethical issues. 8. AI Safety Engineer

AI Safety Engineers design safety in AI systems and ensure their reliable operation. This will include the development of safety procedures, analysis of risks associated with its deployment, and design of systems to forestall harmful outcomes or effects that may crop up unintentionally. Skills Required: You need to have knowledge of AI technologies and safety engineering, strong problem-solving and analytical skills, ability to design and implement safety protocols, have knowledge of risk assessment and management techniques

Education: The AI safety development engineer shall have a background in computer science, engineering, or related fields, with experience in AI and safety engineering. Advanced degrees or certifications in AI safety or risk management will be advantageous. Experience in developing or auditing safety protocols for AI systems will also be desirable. Conclusion

Ethics and Compliance with AI is a developing field and a critical frontier in the technology industry. This might, in particular, be so as current AI systems find increasing applications in almost every walk of life and therefore, due to this, the demand for professionals sailing through the complex landscape of ethics and regulatory requirements would only increase. AI ethics and compliance careers are significant, not just because they go straight to the heart of ensuring that AI technologies are developed and deployed responsibly, but also since they afford human beings the opportunity to shape future technology in a fashion befitting human values and social mores.

The roles within this field are numerous and varied, changing into an ethical AI officer and compliance analyst, much like the character of AI itself. As the awareness in organizations towards matters of ethics and compliance in the development of AI increases, such professionals will be major drivers for building trust, transparency, and accountability in AI systems. This new career avenue brings great professional growth and impact but underlines the much-needed human touch in guiding technological advancements towards betterment.

Monsoon Foot Care

the areas where germs accumulate and odour forms. The waste matter, which is secreted with sweat, has to be removed by daily washing, to eliminate odour and feel fresh and clean. Pay special attention to your feet, while bathing. After washing them well, dry them thoroughly and apply talcum powder. Selecting appropriate footwear is crucial to maintaining foot health during the monsoon. Avoid wearing heels in the monsoons as roads get wet and slippery. If unavoidable, wear footwear that is resistant and with as little heel as possible. Switch your heels for simple footwear such as flip-flops, slippers, rubber boots, sandals etc., as they allow maximum ventilation and help the perspiration evaporate. But, open footwear also attracts dirt and therefore, foot hygiene becomes all the more important. Don't forget to wear gum boots if you live in a region prone to heavy rainfall and floods. If you wear closed shoes, talcum powder can be sprinkled inside the shoes.

are effective in dealing with the problem in the initial stages. However, excessive moisture, caused by excessive sweating, tight shoes and humid weather can lead to bacterial activity and this worsens the condition. If socks are a must, wear cotton ones. In fact, during the hot and humid season, the feet should be exposed to the air as much as possible. Do not neglect any type of warts, wounds or minor infections on your feet. Clean your wounds with an antiseptic liquid of eau de cologne in cold water and soak feet in it. Cools, cleans and removes odour.

Toenails -----Overgrown nails are an invitation to dirt and grime that accumulate under them and a breeding ground for fungal infections. Keeping your toenails groomed by cutting them to an optimal short length is a way of making sure that an unnecessary amount of dirt doesn't accumulate in your toenails. Additionally, moisture causes toenails to become brittle so a regular trim keeps it under check. Cooling Massage Oil: Take 100 ml olive oil and add 2 DROPS eucalyptus oil, 2 DROPS rosemary oil and 3 DROPS khus, or rose oil. Mix together and keep in an airtight glass jar. Use a little of this for foot massage. It cools and protects the skin and keeps it healthy. Make a mix of three tablespoons of rose water with two tablespoons of lemon juice and one teaspoon of pure glycerine. Apply this daily after washing and drying the feet. Turmeric ----Paste of turmeric which is well known for its antibacterial, antifungal and antiviral properties can be applied around the toes to get rid of fungal infections too.

aring for your feet during monsoons can prove to be quite tricky as they're exposed to dirt and germs due to prolonged and constant exposure to muck and rainwater during a downpour.

Walking through dirty water is unavoidable, exposing feet to germs and infections. Our feet bear the brunt of it and are exposed to all sorts of dirt and pollutants floating in the water.

The humid, wet and sticky climate translates into wet shoes, sweaty feet, cracked toes, fungal infections, itching, athlete's foot and many other allergies.

Wearing tight, closed-toe shoes, keeping your feet wet for a long time, and getting minor skin or nail injuries on your foot are common causes of fungal infections of feet.

A little extra care tendered to your feet during monsoon and rainy seasons can help prevent shoe bites & serious foot conditions

The main problem during the Monsoons is high humidity and sweat. The feet are among After a hot day, soak your feet in cold water, to which some salt has been added.

A foot problem called "Athlete's Foot" develops more easily during hot and humid weather, because it thrives on soggy skin. If neglected, it can become a stubborn problem, with an itchy condition. The athlete's foot starts as a fungus infection. So, if there is dry scaling on the feet, especially between the toes, with some itching, consult a dermatologist without delay. Anti-fungal preparations Have a salon pedicure once a week. It keeps the feet in good condition and is also most relaxing!

Here are some home remedies for Monsoon foot care:

Foot Soak: In one-fourth bucket of warm water, add half cup of coarse salt and 10 drops of lemon, or orange essential oil (if you cannot get essential oil, use half a cup of lemon or orange juice). If your feet tend to sweat a lot, use a few drops of tea tree oil, as it has germicidal properties. It helps to deal with bad odour. Soak the feet for 10 to 15 minutes.

Foot Lotion: Mix together 3 tablespoons of rose water, 2 tablespoons of lemon juice and one teaspoon pure glycerin. Apply on feet and leave on for half an hour.

Foot Care for Dryness: In onefourth bucket cold water, put 2 tablespoons honey, one tablespoon herbal shampoo, one tablespoon almond oil. Soak feet in it for 20 minutes.

Cooling foot bath: Add rose water, lemon juice and a splash

Vivek Bali calls on Central Govt for immediate action to ensure safety of Indian students in Bangladesh

Top News Report

SRINAGAR, Aug 6: In light of recent developments in Bangladesh, Vivek Bali State General Secretary of JD(U), has urged the Centre Government to take decisive action to ensure the safety of Indian students residing in Bangladesh. The appeal comes amid growing concerns over their well-being following reports of Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's safe arrival in India.

In a press release issued today, Vivek Bali expressed his grave concerns about the safety of Indian students in Bangladesh. He questioned the current safety assurances for these students, given the heightened tensions and uncertain situation in the country. "The safety of our students abroad is of utmost priority. While it is reassuring that Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina has reached India safely, we must not forget the numerous Indian students who remain in Bangladesh and are potentially vulnerable." Bali stated

He urged the Ministry of External Affairs of India to establish direct communication with Bangladesh military officials to guarantee the protection of Indian students. "The Ministry of External Affairs should take swift measures to ensure that there is a clear line of communication with the authorities in Bangladesh, particularly the military, to safeguard our students during this turbulent period," Bali added.

Vivek Bali's call to action highlights the importance of proactive measures to ensure the safety and security of Indian nationals abroad. He emphasized that the Government of India must act promptly to provide the necessary assurances and protection to its citizens in Banaladesh

Malik anguished over fixation of NEET Centers outside J&K, demands review of decision

Top News Report

JAMMU, Aug 6: Prominent Socio-political leader Adv. Malikzada Mohd Shahzad has called for an urgent review of the decision for fixing NEET examination centers for the students of Jammu and Kashmir outside J&K.

Malik has voiced strong concerns over the current arrangement, which requires students to travel to examination centers outside the Union Territory, a hand out issued in this regard stated adding, "This demand comes in light of the significant hardships faced by the aspirants, particularly those from economically disadvantaged backgrounds who have to undertake long and costly journeys to attend the exams," it added.

Malik has however, requested the central government to intervene and order the immediate relocation of these centers within Jammu and Kashmir. He further highlighted that the current setup is not only inconvenient but also discriminatory against the students of JKUT

"Many students and their families have expressed frustration over the additional financial burden and the stress of traveling long distances, which can negatively impact their performance in the crucial exams," Malik said. He also added that the NEET examination is a critical gateway for students aspiring to enter the medical field and equitable access to examination centers is essential for maintaining fairness and inclusivity. Malik emphasized that students from Jammu and Kashmir should have the same opportunities as their peers in other parts of the country. The current arrangement, he argued, undermines the principles of equal opportunity and creates unnecessary barriers for

GCOE Jammu organizes essay writing competition on "Unsung heroes of Indian freedom struggle"

Top News Report

JAMMU, Aug 6: The Literary Club of GCOE Jammu hosted an inspiring essay writing competition on "Unsung Heroes of Indian Freedom Struggle.

The objective of the event was to shed light on the lesser known figures of freedom struggle who played pivotal role in India's fight for independence.

The competition witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various departments. It provided a platform for young minds to explore and articulate the contributions of freedom fighters whose stories are often overlooked in mainstream narratives.

The event commenced with an inaugural session graced by the Principal of GCOE Jammu, Dr Jyoti Parihar who emphasized the importance of remembering and honoring the unsung heroes of the nation. She also highlighted the need for the younger generation to be aware of the sacrifices made by our freedom fighters.

The topics for the competition ranged from regional freedom fighters to those who made significant impacts at the national level.

The essays were evaluated by a distinguished panel of judges comprising Prof Balwan Singh and Dr Suraj Prakash. The criteria for evaluation included originality, depth of research, coherence, and writing style.

The winners of the competition were announced at a special ceremony. During the feedback session the students said that researching and writing about unsung heroes like Birsa Munda, Karu Bhagat, Sivagami Ammayar and others was a profound experience.

It made them realize the depth of their sacrifice and the importance of preserving their legacy

The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Literary Club Coordinator Dr Shalini Rana, who expressed gratitude to all participants and judges for their contributions to the success of the competition.

Rajesh Gupta urges LG to immediately address issues of J&K transgenders

Top News Report

JAMMU, Aug 6: The Bahujan Samaj Party today demanded equal rights for transgenders. In the NALSA judgement, the State and Central governments were asked to extend reservations to transgender people in education and public employment.

After the Bill was first made public in December 2017, activists had. then too, made it clear that one of their major demands was reservation in employment, politics and education.

Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) General Secretary and media head Rajesh Gupta while doing strong advocacy of transgenders says that BJP govt failed to deliver what was promised to the trans community by landmark Supreme Court verdict in to address the genuine issues of transgenders in Jammu and Kashmir. "The BJP government has failed and continues to fail the transgender community," said Gupta. This contradicts Prime Minister Narendra Modi's claim in February that his government had benefitted the community by enacting the Transgender Persons (Protection of Rights) Act, 2019, under

Members of the trans community have been consistently making representations to authorities in central and state governments with regard to various issues such as reservations in educational institutions and government jobs, scholarships for trans students and funds for garima grehs or shelter homes for trans people, Gupta said. However, there has been no progress on any of these concerns.

Rajesh Gupta acknowledged that the transgender community is electorally insignificant because it is not a vote bank that can sway elections in any constituency. "As far as I know, no political party has made any outreach efforts to woo trans voters or even get trans people to register to vote," he said.

In Chandigarh, the cast of Punjabi film Shahkot, including Raj Babbar, Guru Randhawa and Isha Talwar, talks about how the story is an ode to love across borders

Some stars pour down in Chandigarh, while monsoon continued to play truant! Evergreen actor Raj Babbar, music sensation Guru Randhawa, Mirzapur's Madhuri aka Isha Talwar, along with their director Rajiv Dhingra, and producer Anirudh Mohta, launched the teaser of their upcoming Punjabi film Shahkot at a city mall. A Jatinder Shah musical that says the story of Punjab — on both sides of the border — the film marks the comeback to Pollywood for Raj Babbar. Seen in the role of a father, he led the team with fatherly care, making sure the young ones took the limelight as he gently nudged them from behind.

Interestingly, the film is backed by a Marwari man! "All I can say is that a Marwari businessman never takes a raw deal, so here we are with a film that is bound to do well." savs Mohta. While Guru Randhawa has done a Hindi film, Kuch Khattaa Ho Jaay, before, he counts Shahkot as his debut for this was shot before

"Many people reached out to me saying that I look good and sing well, so I should become a hero but I took my time to face the camera," says the Tenu Suit

Suit Karda hitmaker. "Wherever I go, I represent Punjab. Even in Bollywood, I sing Punjabi numbers and try representing our culture. And Shahkot is a beautiful love story," says the singer-actor, who has to his credit major hits like Patola, High Rated Gabru, Morni Banke and Lagdi Lahore

Di. In another Punjabi story of chasing dreams abroad, Guru plays lqbal, who falls in love with a woman from Pakistan. His love interest is played by Isha Talwar, the 'prodigal' Punjabi girl who returns home after doing Malayalam, Telugu, Tamil and

Hindi cinema, along with some hit web shows

"I wish my parents had spoken some Punjabi while I was growing up; it's only here that I learnt to be comfortable with my mother tongue," says the Mumbai girl, who also dubbed for the film. "I really like to give my best, learning Punjabi on home turf is remarkable, I am looking forward more roles here,' she beams.

Joined by other cast members - Gurshabad Singh, Manpreet Singh, better known by his stage name Comic Singh, Seema Kaushal and Neha Dyal there was laughter, some tears and hope for the film to do well since the mike at the conference didn't! Comic Singh had everyone in splits as his night-long preparation for the interview was curtailed at a question or two; Neha got emotional on being given love and respect by Randhawa, who is admired by millions.

Comic Singh making a film debut with this one and his fans are intrigued about his role. He shares, "When I told my family that I got a film, they were happy. Knowing that I play a naukar, they were happier. They were like, 'how wonderful, no money to be spent on make-up, and no acting prep either'."

The director, and also the writer Rajiv Dhingra, who has to his credit the film Love Punjab and celebrity show Comedy Nights With Kapil, considers having Raj Babbar on board as an honour. "The film shows how Indians trying to cross the border were taken through the Greece route, but on being caught were transferred to Turkey, Iran and Pakistan, to be exchanged as prisoners of war. But the narrative charts a fictional route, making mohabbat its motto," he says. (The film hits the screens on October 4)

'CTRL': Ananya Panday plays content creator in Vikramaditya Motwane's Netflix thriller

Vikramaditya Motwane's upcoming film, 'CTRL' promises to break away from traditional storytelling, and make you question how much you rely on technology. Starring Anany Panday and Vihaan Samat, the film will premiere on Netflix on October 4.

Ananya Panday plays Nella Awasthi in 'CTRL' and Vihaan Samat is Joe Mascarenhas. They are a couple who create content together and have a good following on social media. However, after their breakup, things take an ugly turn.

The first-look teaser of the film was shared on the official Instagram handle of Netflix India. "Think again. CTRL releases on 4 October, only on Netflix!," read the caption which sounded more like a warning.

After 'Kho Gaye Hum Kahan', this is yet another Ananya Panday film, which will turn the spotlight on the side effects of social media.

Ananya Panday, who is thrilled to collaborate with Vikramaditya Motwane and Nikhil Dwivedi for this film, said in a statement, "CTRL is engaging, impactful and definitely makes you wonder if you are truly in control of your life. I truly believe that this film is for everyone, given the exponential advancement in tech and our rising dependency on it. What better platform to reach the audience with a narrative as compelling as CTRL than Netflix?"

Director Vikramaditya Motwane added, "With the amount of time we spend on our devices, screen time is now redefined as screen life! The question is, are we actually in control of all the digital extensions of our life, or are we being controlled? That's the answer CTRL tries to explore. For a concept as new-age as this, we not only needed a cast who lives such a life, but a medium like Netflix that's relevant."

'CTRL' will offer a glimpse into a future that could be closer than we imagine. It is set to begin streaming on Netflix from October 4.

Buying a juicer for the family or contributing to the household in other ways, here's what these celebrities did with their first paycheque

The joy of getting your first paycheque is so overwhelming and exciting, and nothing in the world can compete with that! Though the feeling remains the same, what every individual does with the first paycheque varies. We spoke to a few celebrities about their first paycheque.

Family first: Seema Kapoor

I became the breadwinner of my family at a tender age and bore the expenses of the household. All my earnings were contributed for the welfare of my family; therefore, all of it was handed over to my dad, and I was never aware of the amount I earned. I still have the habit of not carrying a purse or cash; whenever I need to buy something, I expect him to pay on my behalf.

Happy time: Chef Harpal Singh Sokhi

When I was in ninth grade, I started giving tuitions without letting my father know about it. Later when I told him, he was quite amused. But I was happy as after the first month, I got around Rs 900. I bought a gold ring with the money and still have it.

Childhood days: Twinkle Arora My first income was when I was in fifth grade. I wanted some extra pocket money and wanted to show that I could help my sister in running the household. So, I used to make school charts, tables, etc. My first income was very modest; I made five charts for a hundred rupees!

Dance tutor: Shiwani Chakraborty I was a dance tutor who gave classes in my hometown. I started earning during my school days, but I don't

Sanam Saeed on Pakistani actors not working in India: Exchange will happen when Indian actors feel safe to act with us

Pakistani actor Sanam Saeed has found a strong fan base in India following her show, Zindagi Gulzar Hai alongside Fawad Khan, and feels people from India are her "long lost siblings". However, she has not yet got a chance to come to the country and work. She says she is hopeful that exchange of talent between the countries will resume soon.

The actor is back to mainstream drama with Zindagi's new show, Barzakh, where she reunites with Fawad Khan after 12 years. It is the Zindagi channel which has opened the gateway for Pakistani shows to find a way onto the screens in India. On her show Barzakh

"The feedback has been quite overwhelming. And very interesting exactly what we hoped for. Mesmerised, blown away and proud are just the adjectives that I've gotten to near," Sanam tells us while talking about the feedback.

resort owner who invites his estranged lost siblings. We just grew up in different homes. Essentially, we are of the same land, same blood in many ways, but we just grew up differently over the years. It was nice to reconnect with those long lost siblings," she says.

The actor feels it was eye opening in many ways. "For Indians more so than us. Because we are accustomed to Indian cultures and we are used to seeing what Indians are like through Bollywood and Star Plus. But Indians had not seen us. It was this really beautiful exchange that happened (through Zindagi) where people's eyes were opened up and Indian people really got an insight into their long lost siblings," shares the actor. On working in India

It was back in 2016 following the Uri attack that the cross-border tensions between India and Pakistan started spilling over in the entertainment world, straining the ties and stopping the exchange of talent.

My first job was with The Oberoi in Bhubaneswar in 1987. I started working there as a trainee cook and went on to master everything in about one year. My first paycheque was eight hundred rupees, and I was so thrilled to have started earning. This was the primary reason for joining hotel management ----to earn money and support my family. So, naturally, the amount went to my parents and everyone back home was so glad that I had started earning. Priceless moment: Hansa Singh

My first ever job was as an account executive for a couple of magazines being published from Delhi. When I got my first paycheque of Rs 1,500, I was super-elated and gave it to my mom. Money is important, but happiness on parents' faces is priceless.

Gold ring: Gulfam Khan Hussain

remember exactly what my fees were for each student. But if you ask me as an actor, my notable earnings were for the role in Taarak Mehta Ka Ooltah Chashmah. I played a dance teacher's character, and that episode is still trending today. So, you can say that was my proper paycheque as an actor. The amount was around seven thousand rupees.

English teacher: Manmohan Tiwari My first job was teaching. I used to teach English and conduct personality development programmes. This happened because the teacher at the place where I studied had left and the owner of the institution asked me to take over. So, the first time I received a paycheque, I had become a teacher by accident. With that first cheque, I bought a mixer-grinder for my family.

The actor adds. "There's so many things and factors that have stimulated people in terms of the cinematography, the grading, the colour palette, the costumes, and the acting. People are really overwhelmed, intrigued, curious and have slowly understood that this is not a show that they can just binge watch. It's something that they have to really focus on and watch with a lot of attention".

There are some people who are scratching their heads and saying "bilkul samjh nahi aa raha", as Sanam feels they are the people "who are not used to giving undivided attention to something and watching something that is a slow burn". She feels they will get a gist once they watch the whole show and put all the pieces together.

On takeaway from the show

The show revolves around a reclusive

children to his third wedding. However, his latest bride-to-be is believed to have died long ago. It traces the journey of the family as the reunion forces the family to not only face their demons but also confront them. It was released on July 19 on Zindagi's YouTube and ZEE5

For Sanam, working on the show has been a personal experience, as she puts, "My take back after working on this show was that love does conquer all"

"Family is really all you have... Forgiveness is a quality to embrace and to exercise. Staying connected to family members because they are such a huge part of who you are. And for parents to really pay attention to children when they're raising them. These things are pointers that I walked away with more than anything," said the 39-year-old actor. On love for India

In fact, she gets a lot of love for India, and the feeling is mutual. "They're like my long

"I never came to India to work, so I cannot say that I miss it because I haven't experienced it. But with time, things will happen," she shares.

Expressing her optimism, Sanam mentions, "This is a big enough deal that Zee collaborates with us and that we have this crosscultural exchange. The fact that we are on Indian OTT platforms is quite a huge feat in itself... Baki when actors from the other side of the border feel confident and safe enough to act with us, and things change, then that exchange will definitely happen".

"Because it has happened before. We have had festivals where we have had Indian actors come to Pakistan and be a part of the festival. We have had our superstars go to India and act. So, it's just a matter of time when art and culture can merge again," she ends

Neha Bhasin on her battle with PMDD, OCPD and Fibromyalgia: "I am in pain"

Neha Bhasin's latest Instagram post is sending shockwaves among her fans. The singer posted a note from her journal on Instagram and opened up about suffering from hormonal and mental conditions such as Premenstrual Dysphoric Disorder, Obsessive Compulsive Personality Disorder and Fibromyalgia. Her note began with the words, "I want to say a lot but I really don't know where to even begin or how to consolidate the helpless hell I am experiencing. After Years of knowing something is off. Finally with more awareness medically today comes the Diagnosis (on paper since 2 years, I have known since I was 20) which helps get the right treatments for the mental and hormonal illnesses and with all of this comes major realisation and then THE acceptance that at least for now my nervous system feels broken ... Monthly fatigue, body pains, mental pain, anxiety, monthly depression, past traumas, fixing unhealthy relationship with food and body, sleep hygiene, back to therapy.' The singer added how she tried to manage these conditions.

She wrote, "Cognitive therapy, yoga, not isolating, not working a lot to manage stress, meeting people I love, Journaling, being ok with the discomfort. Less screen time, you name it But My monthly PMDD still finds a way to throw me in an old dark hole or dig many new ones. Is this my failure? Asks my CPD.. Flares up what my DR calls Fibromylgia which now I am finally ACCEPT-ING too.. I have worked out. Danced, performed through pain for years thinking I am just tight so stretch more. Mt therapist says for sometime do NOTHING. REST." Neha Bhasin added she has been in pain for decades. She said,

"Acceptance lets you rest but rest makes you realise how tired and broken you are. None of it feels fair or okay or nearly pleasant on top of it PMDD loops of mental hell and now new awareness to not indulge them but to observe. On top of it they say you have OCPD TOO which also made you an achiever but has fatigued you. I have been in pain over decades but pushing through it all, living my dreams, propelling forward like a warrior. A girl living her dream."

The star concluded, "Today, I saw an old man holding a huge box in 1 hand and an umbrella in the other struggling through the rain climbing up the stairs of my gym and he looked at me and smiled and that made me cry harder. It made me guilty and sad. You should be more grateful Neha. have no conclusions yet... All pain are real to the sufferers and right now I am in pain. Loads of it." ### Amit Shah criticizes TMC, questions adoption of Bengal model in other states

Amit Shah highlighted a significant decrease in violence in the North East, citing a reduction of over 60 per cent.

NEW DELHI, Aug 6 (Agencies): Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday took a jibe at the Trinamool Congress (TMC)-led government in West Bengal, guestioning whether any state would want to implement its model in the context of containing Left Wing Extremism.

During the Question Hour in the Lok Sabha, Trinamool Congress leader Sougata Roy asserted that the West Bengal government has been successful in tackling Left Wing Extremism and asked whether the central government would study the state's model and consider applying it in other states

In response, Shah

remarked that the Narendra Modi-led government has no issues implementing successful models from various states. However, he added, "I assume that no state will like to implement the West

Patanjali misleading ads: SC comes down heavily on IMA President over poor apology

Temple.

NEW DELHI, Aug 6 (Agencies): Expressing its displeasure as to why the IMA President has tendered his apology to only its IMA's e-newspaper and a news agency. Instead, the apology has to be published in all newspapers that carried his interview and it must be through his funds and not IMA's money. The apex court said this while dealing with the nature of the apology tendered by Indian Medical Association (IMA) President Dr RV Asokan in relation to his contemptuous remarks against the Court in an interview. The apex court bench, led by Justice Hima Kohli and Justice Sandeep Mehta warned Dr Asokan that he was "inviting more trouble" for himself, as he could not wash his hands off by sending an apology just to the news agency. "The apology has to be published in all the newspapers that carried out his interview. The same (apology) has to be done using his own funds and not IMA's," the apex court made it clear in its order on Tuesday. Taking strong exceptions on the contemptuous remarks made by Dr Asokan, the top court said, "All those newspacase filed by the IMA against the activities carried out by Patanjali and its founders against the COVID-19 vaccination drive and modern medicine, as the petitioner pointed out that the com-

Senior Advocate PS Patwalia (for IMA) said that Dr Asokan would take appropriate steps to purge himself in the contempt of court charges.

It is significant and pertinent to note that the IMA President's comments came as a response to two questions asked during an interview with agency.

The Supreme Court on July 9 was apprised that public apology has been published in media houses by Dr Asokan, for his alleged remarks regarding the Patanjali hearing, against the top court.

While addressing its Feb 27 decision, the apex court said that its earlier order for selfdeclaration to be submitted by the advertisement industry mation and Broadcasting to settle the issues and difficulties faced by the advertisers.

The Supreme Court in a May hearing, slammed the Uttarakhand State Licensing Authority (SLA) for its alleged failure to take effective action at a proper time against Patanjali Ayurved for years together, after the IMA challenged the misleading advertisements.

The Court in its earlier order restrained a temporary ban including both print and TV -on Patanjali medicine advertisements.

CBI books Hindalco for corruption in green clearance for Talabira coal mining

NEW DELHI, Aug 6 (Agencies): The Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has booked the country's leading aluminium producer Hindalco of the Aditya Birla Group for alleged corruption in getting environmental clearances for coal mining between 2011 and 2013, officials said on Tuesday.

The agency has also named T Chandini, the then director in the Union Ministry of Environment and Forests, for favouring the company as member secretary of the Expert Appraisal Committee (EAC) in allowing mining in the Talabira-I mine in the critically polluted area of Odisha's Jharsuguda in violation of ministry guidelines, they said.

The central probe agency registered an FIR against Hindalco and Chandini under Section 120-B (criminal conspiracy) of the Indian Penal Code and provisions of the Prevention of Corruption Act after a nearly eight-year-long preliminary inquiry. Reacting to the FIR, a Hindalco spokesperson said, "This is an old matter pertaining to 2014-15. These mines were de-allocated as part of the government's de-allocation process. This is a matter of public record where more than 100 mines were de-allocated.'

> The CBI registered the preliminary inquiry in 2016 on allegations that the Aditya Birla Management Corporation Private Limited had allegedly paid "massive bribes" between 2011 and 2013 to ministry officials for getting mandatory environmental clearance to mine coal from Talabira.

The findings of the inquiry showed that the ministry had made it mandatory in 2006 for a company to seek environment clearances for all new projects, expansion of existing products and any change in the product mix in an existing manufacturing unit. The projects needing prior environmental clearance were supposed to go through the EAC, consisting of experts from different disciplines. The clearance was given by the regulatory authority based on the EAC's recommendation.

Hindalco received its first environmental clearance in 2001 for mining 0.4 million tonnes per annum (MTPA) of coal from the Talabira-I mine.

Another clearance was given in January 2009 for its expansion, allowing the increase in mining from 0.4 MTPA to 1.5 MTPA. Nearly a month after the second clearance, the company sought to double its capacity to 3 MTPA, which was to be considered by the EAC, it said. It emerged that the company had allegedly violated clearances given in 2001 and 2009 by producing more coal than permitted by the ministry, the FIR said. The company allegedly mined 3.04 MTPA excess coal from 2004-05 to 2007-08 and 2008-09, it said.

"This fact became known during the process of consideration by the EAC of which T Chandini, director, was the member secretary," the FIR alleged.

The Odisha State Pollution Control Board and the Central Pollution Control Board confirmed during the inquiry that the Talabira mine was in the critically polluted area of Jharsuguda, the CBI alleged. According to ministry rules, in-pipeline projects in critically polluted areas or those applying after January 13, 2010, by member secretaries with the approval of the advisor was not built on robust revenue growth from surging sales volume,

but for a variety of less exciting reasons -

The inquiry showed that Chandini, despite being fully aware that the company was mining excess coal in violation of previous environmental clearances, did not return the project, as stipulated in the ministry circular.

"Rather she acted to the contrary in as much as the proposal of HIL (Hindalco) was continued to be processed which amounted to misuse of her official position to favour HIL," the CBI FIR has alleged Chandini, by misusing her official position, communicated to Hindalco that their proposal for grant environmental clearance would be considered in the next meeting of the EAC to be held on February 25 and 25, 2010, the agency alleged. She allegedly ensured that the clearance was granted in haste, considering the fact that Hindalco was already in violation of earlier clearances granted by the ministry, as it was already mining excess coal from the Talabira-I coal mine, it said.

Italy's abortion divisions sharpen under Meloni's leadership

Abortion legal in Italy since 1978, but country divided

ROME/NAPLES, Aug 6 (Agencies): With Giorgia Meloni, Italy has probably the most openly anti-abortion prime minister in western Europe, but terminating pregnancies in the majority-Catholic country that hosts the Vatican has never been easy.

When Linda Feki, a 33-yearold singer and musician from Naples, posted her account of stigma and abuse in undergoing the procedure, she received heartfelt messages of support from many Italian women who identified with her experience.

She also received criticism and insults, reflecting intensifying national divisions over reproductive rights under Meloni's leadership.

"I decided to make my story public ... because I have a public profile so maybe my voice could resonate more. I felt a kind of responsibility as a citizen, but also as an artist, to convey the message that abortion is a right", she told agency.

Abortions in Italy are legal within the first three months, and beyond that when the mother's mental or physical health is seriously endangered. But bureaucratic, cultural and practical obstacles all get in the way.

About 63% of gynaecologists across Italy are among medical staff officially known as "conscientious objectors", refusing involvement in abortions on ethical grounds, health ministry data shows. The figure rises to more than 80% in parts of the south. Feki said she first went to Naples' San Paolo hospital, where a gynaecologist questioned whether she really wanted to abort and insisted her pregnancy was at a later stage than would have been possible given when she had last seen her long-distance partner.

When challenged, the doctor said it welcomed the feedback

implied she may have slept with others, Feki said, adding that a subsequent scan from a private gynaecologist confirmed the pregnancy was at an earlier stage.

Doctor Luigi Terracciano, head of Gynaecology and Obstetrics at the San Paolo, said he was sorry to hear that Feki had a bad experience. "It is my desire and interest to meet her and clarify the situation, if she wishes it too," he told Reuters

BE MORE CAREFUL NEXT TIME

Feki then turned to the Cardarelli hospital, where she said pre-surgery medicine caused her intense pain, but nobody offered painkillers, and that after the surgery a "conscientious objector" nurse initially refused to respond to a call for help.

She had the procedure on March 4, the day neighbouring France made abortion a constitutional right.

On Instagram, she wrote she found it "heartbreaking" to be reprimanded about her pregnancy by the surgeon and nurses "immediately after surgery".

"There should be no judgement on a choice that is our right," she told agency. A spokesman for the Cardarelli to avoid offending summit guest Pope Francis, who has described abortion as "murder". Anti-abortion groups are a vocal lobby in Italy, with strong connections to several lawmakers in the ruling coalition. Jacopo Coghe, a spokeperson for one of the groups organising the annual "We Choose Life" rally in Rome - ProVita & Famiglia - said divisions in society had intensified.

"The climate has changed, our activists, especially young people, are more determined, but on the other hand the incidents of intolerance against us have increased, with 10 acts of vandalism against our premises in the last 4-5 years." He said he did not expect Meloni to change the abortion law, but that the goal was to shift public opinion against it to pave the way for its repeal at some point.

In the meantime, he said he hopes the government will do more to prevent abortions, especially in terms of helping women afraid of not being able to afford to raise a child.

Defenders of abortion rights say there is nothing wrong with offering money to pregnant women, especially if in need, but they should not be exposed to stigma or psychological pressure.

Francesca Pierazzuoli, a psychologist who oversees abortion advice clinics in the greater Milan area, said their work has "nothing to do" with persuasion and anti-abortion groups had not yet entered the clinics she oversees.

Elisabetta Canitano, a gynaecologist and veteran abortion rights campaigner from Rome, said those who try to convince a woman to keep a child she does not want, have "no idea of the hell they are pushing her into, no idea at all".

DHAKA, Aug 6 (Agencies): The leaders of the Students Against Discrimination on Tuesday said they want Nobel laureate Mohammad Yunus as the head of Bangladesh's interim government, a day after Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina resigned and fled the country following massive protests against her government.

In a video posted on social media early Tuesday morning, Nahid Islam, one of the key coordinators of the movement, said that Prof Yunus has agreed to take on this crucial responsibility at the call of the student community to save the country. the Daily Star newspaper reported.

"We have decided that the interim government would be formed in which internationally renowned Nobel Laureate Dr Mohammad Yunus, who has wide acceptability, would be the chief adviser," said Nahid, flanked by two other coordinators.

He said the names of the other members of the interim government would be announced soon.

His announcement comes hours after President Mohammed Shahabuddin said an interim government would be formed as soon as possible after dissolving the parliament.

In a televised address to the nation late Monday night, the president also ordered the release of former prime minister Khaleda Zia, who is under house arrest after being convicted in several cases. Nahid said the group earlier took 24 hours to announce the framework of the interim administration but the chaotic situation forced them to announce the name immediately. He urged the presiin 2011 and fired Yunus as its founding managing director on charges of violating the government retirement regulation.

He was charged under dozens of cases.

In January, Yunus was sentenced to six months in jail by a court on charges of labour law violation.

Many people believe Hasina became enraged when Yunus announced that he would form a political party in 2007 when the country was run by a military-backed government and Hasina was in prison.

Yunus, however, did not follow through on the plan but at that time he criticised Bangladeshi politicians alleging they were only interested in money.

In an interview, he expressed his desire to return and continue his work.

He praised the students for bringing together and liberating Bangladesh and accused Hasina of destroying the legacy of her father Bangladesh's founder Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman.

Bangladesh descended into chaos on Monday as Prime Minister Hasina surreptitiously resigned and fled the country in a military aircraft while the Army stepped in to fill the power vacuum.

As the news of Hasina's departure spread, hundreds of people broke into her residence, vandalising and looting the interiors, providing dramatic expression to the antigovernment protests that have killed more than 300 people in a fortnight.

Hasina's residence Sudha Sadan and other establishments were attacked, vandalised and set on fire in the capital after her departure. The residences and business establishments of ministers, party MPs and leaders of Hasina's Awami League government were also attacked in Dhaka and outside Dhaka.

Cruise ship rescues 77 migrants in sailing boat found southwest of Greece

ATHENS, Aug 6 (Agencies): A cruise ship rescued 77 migrants found overnight in a sailboat in distress far off the southwestern coast of Greece and was transporting them to the nearest major port, Greek authorities said Tuesday. A passing Maltese-flagged cargo ship found the boat 112 nautical miles (129 miles, 207 kilometers) southwest of the town of Pylos in the early hours of Tuesday, the coast guard said. In an operation coordinated by Greece's search and rescue authority, all those on board were picked up by a cruise ship sailing in the area and were being transported to the southern Greek port town of Kalamata, authorities said. There were no reports of any people missing. No information was immediately available on the nationalities of those on the sailboat or where they had set out from.

Only 104 people survived the sinking of the Adriana, and just over 80 bodies were recovered. The rest went down with the trawler in one of the deepest parts of the Mediterranean, making recovery efforts essentially impossible.

China launches rocket carrying new constellation of satellites

BEIJING, Aug 6 (Agencies): China says it launched a rocket Tuesday carrying a constellation of a reported 18 satellites as part of efforts to assert its presence in space.

The satellites were carried aboard a Long March-6 carrier rocket from the Taiyuan Satellite Launch Center in north China's Shanxi Province early on Tuesday afternoon.

The official Xinhua News Agency said the rocket had reached its preprogrammed orbit without incident. China's space program has launched numerous crewed missions, put a space station into orbit with a revolving crew of three astronauts aboard and sent a rover to the Moon that has brought back rocks and soil.

It has also launched the Beidou System of satellites for national security, communications and scientific purposes, seen as an alternative --or possible competitor — to the GPS system widely used for navigation that is mainly helmed by China's strategic rival, the United States.

Suspected rocket attack injures U.S. personnel at Iraq base

WASHINGTON, Aug 6 (Agencies): Several U.S. personnel were injured in a suspected rocket attack at a military base in Iraq, U.S. defense officials said, in what has been a recent uptick in strikes on American forces by Iranian-backed militias.

The attack comes as tensions across the Middle East are spiking following the killings last week of a senior Hezbollah commander in Lebanon and Hamas' top political leader in Iran, in suspected Israeli strikes. Both groups are backed by Iran.

The U.S. defense officials said troops at al-Asad air base were still assessing the injuries and damage, and it appeared that as many as seven military troops and civilians were injured. Iraqi security officials confirmed the attack, but no group has claimed responsibility.

The American officials said the U.S. looked into reports of a possible second attack at the base but determined there had not been another one.

The officials spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss military operations. The White House said the president and vice president were briefed on the attack.

In recent weeks, Iranian-backed Iragi militias have resumed launching attacks on bases housing U.S. forces in Iraq and Syria after a lull of several months, following a strike on a base in Jordan in late January that killed three American soldiers and prompted a series of retaliatory U.S. strikes.

Between October and January, an umbrella group calling itself the Islamic Resistance in Iraq had regularly claimed attacks that it said were in retaliation for Washington's support of Israel in its war against Hamas in Gaza and were aimed at pushing U.S. troops out of the region.

Jammu feels Govt victimized them: Manjit Singh

Says bureaucracy undermines democratic system

Top News Report

VIJAYPUR, Aug 6: Apni Party Provincial President, Jammu, and Former Minister, S. Manjit Singh today claimed that the people in Jammu Region feel that the Govt has victimized them with its anti-people policies that has given rise to multiple issues, especially unemployment and underdevelopment.

The issues have further aggravated with the supremacy of the bureaucracy that allegedly hampers the projects that benefit the public, said the Former Minister while addressing a meeting at Vijaypur where development and other issues were discussed in threadbare

As per a press release, he demanded the restoration of democratic system in Jammu and Kashmir with the holding of early assembly elections in the erstwhile state, while criticising the bureaucracy for undermining the democratic system.

To discuss the issues confronted by the people, the Former Minister chaired a meeting with the people in Vijaypur where the participants appraised him about the underdevelopment town due to poor response from the concerned

"The road is already congested and if the divider is constructed in the middle of the narrow road, it would create a chaotic situation for commuters on the Ramgarh road." he added.

He said that the anger is brewing among the people in Samba District because of the negligence of the authorities, who have completely failed to do developmental related work.

"The situation has emerged because these officials have no accountability, and no one is questioning their work. Hence, the people are forced to face hardships." he added.

"The youth are frustrated with no scope of their employment and hence, their social and personal life have been destabilized," he said, urging for holding of early assembly elections in Jammu and Kashmir to address growing concerns of the people of both the regions

He said that the people are worried about their future in the absence of an uncertain future in Jammu and Kashmir.

"J&K was known for stable income and the people hardly migrated to other places except kandi areas because the local residents had ample scope to get employment in Govt service and armed forces." he added He demanded that a

"We waited for five long years for restoration of statehood to J&K and we feel that they are not going to restore the statehood without a struggle...We request everyone to join the demand for the future of our children," the YRS chief told reporters.

He said the YRS has decided to intensify the protests across Jammu in the coming days to compel the Central government to accept the popular demand of the people of Jammu and Kashmir.

"We will sit together on the birth anniversary of Maharaja Hari Singh (on September 23) and decide the future course of action. Today, we are taking pledge that we will not rest till our demand for restoration of statehood is not fulfilled," Singh said.

The rally caused heavy traffic jams in the city due to the closure of one tube of the Tawi bridge even as police diverted the traffic to other routes.

"Our only demand is restoration of statehood along with our rights. We have nothing to do with (assembly) elections and we will fight for the rights of the people till the last drop of our blood. We are ready to take the batons," former YRS president Rajan Singh Happy said.

JK High Court grants Rs 20 Lakh to vouth electrocuted in 2007

Chatterji Koul passed the judgment on July 22 after noting that no compensation was paid for the incident. The Court also rejected the Jammu and Kashmir Power Department's objections over the delay in claiming such compensation.

"There is no quarrel about 78 per cent disability of petitioner due to electric shock, when he had been eight years of age on 9th March 2007 ... petitioner has transelbow amputation left side with scarring/ puckering of over lung skin and percentage of disability is around 78 per cent from orthopedic side ... petitioner has scars in B/L thighs and deformity disability amounts to 15 per cent. In such circumstances, petitioner cannot be said that he is not entitled to any compensation as has been tried and stated by respondents," the Court said.

The Court was hearing a petition filed in 2018 by 21-year-old Abrar Ahmad Tantray (petitioner), who sought compensation for the electrocution he suffered as an 8-year-old boy due to an uncovered electric transformer.

He also sought that he be sympathetically considered by the government for a suitable job as per his gualifications, so that he may not feel dependent and handicapped for life.

Abrar had been playing with other children outside when he received the electric shock due to a snapped 11 KV line wire at Kujjar Kulgam village. The electrocution resulted in severe burn injuries on the left side of his body and a part of his arm had to be amputated as well. He was left with a 78 per cent permanent disability. The State opposed his 2018 plea for compensation on the ground that it was filed after a nine-year delay, although the authorities admitted that the electrocution incident took place. The Court was also informed that after the incident, Abrar's case was recommended for the grant of relief and rehabilitation on humanitarian grounds and that a letter was forwarded to the Development Commissioner, Power in October 2007. The Court, however, found that no compensation had been paid. Therefore, it ordered the authorities to pay rupees 20 lakh as compensation to the petitioner, along with an interest of 6 per cent per annum from the date of presentation of the petition (2018) till it is paid.

Advocate Areeb Kanth appeared for the petitioner. Additional Advocate General Alla ud Din Ganai and advocate Shaila Shameem represented the respondentauthorities.

NEW DELHI/JAMMU, Aug 6: Concerned about the suffering of people affected by the recent heavy rains and floods that have devastated several areas in the Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir, senior Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) leader and Member of Parliament, Er Gulam Ali Khatana, has called upon Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha to mobilize district and divisional authorities for immediate relief efforts.

In a statement issued today, the MP said, "Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi Ji and Home Minister Shri Amit Shah Ji are closely monitoring the situation. The UT administration has been instructed to exhaust all possible efforts to support the people during these challenging times. Khatana emphasized that the Union Territory administration has been instructed to spare no effort in serving the affected population during this challenging period. The recent adverse weather conditions have inflicted extensive damage throughout the UT. Khatana stressed the need for a coordinated and rapid response from the administration, stating, "The residents of Jammu and Kashmir have suffered huge losses due to recent rain and floods. The UT administration should immediately launch a drive on a war footing basis to serve the affected people.'

To address the crisis effectively, Khatana highlighted the critical roles noted that many areas are facing severe infrastructure challenges, including damaged houses, washed-away roads, soil erosion due to floods, damaged water supply pipelines, and downed electricity poles. These issues have severely disrupted daily life, creating obstacles in mobility, access to clean water, and electricity supply.

To prevent further chaos and ensure effective crisis management. Khatana has called for all departments directly dealing with the public to work in unison. He emphasized the importance of rapid response and active involvement from local authorities in managing the situation. In a specific appeal to district officials, Khatana urged all Deputy Commissioners in Jammu and Kashmir to convene daily meetings with field staff, including Tehsildars and Block Development Officers. These meetings aim to assess losses accurately and facilitate the prompt delivery of relief to affected individuals and communities. The MP's call for action underscores the urgency and scale of the response required to address the damage caused by the recent calamity. By emphasizing the need for daily meetings and on-ground assessments, Khatana aims to ensure that relief measures are both timely and effective in reaching those most in need.

"As the region grapples with the aftermath of this natural disaster, the focus remains on restoring normalcy and providing essential support to the affected population. The coordinated efforts of various government departments, coupled with the active involvement of local authorities. will be crucial in navigating the challenges ahead and rebuilding the affected areas", the MP said.

Dimple holds protest against dismantling of J&K State, calls for restoration

Top News Report

JAMMU, Aug 6: Sunil Dimple, President of Mission Statehood, led a protest rally on Tuesday against the dismantling of Jammu and Kashmir (J&K) Dogra state into two union territories and the abrogation of Article 370 on August 5, 2019.

Protestors burned copies of the "Black Day" August 5 calendars and blocked the Amphalla-Janipur High Court road for an hour, demanding the restoration of J&K state and the implementation of the Instrument of Accession conditions, which they claimed to have won in the Supreme Court.

Addressing the protestors, Dimple accused the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) of betraying the vouth and people of Jammu and Kashmir by celebrating the abrogation of Article 370 and dismantling the state

He described these actions as an insult to Maharaia Hari Singh and the Dogra people. Dimple reiterated the demand for the restoration of J&K state and the implementation of the Instrument of Accession conditions. Dimple announced that Mission Statehood would continue to fight for the next hundred years for the restoration of Article 370 and the preservation of the J&K Dogra state. ## India seek to avert historic ODI series defeat against Sri Lanka Virat Kohli's struggles against Sri Lankan spinners reflect the broader issues facing India's batting lineup.

COLOMBO, Aug 6 (Agencies): The onus will be on Indian batters, particularly the talismanic Virat Kohli, to follow the path laid down by skipper Rohit Sharma and tactfully counter the spin challenge in the third and final ODI here on Wednesday to avoid their first series defeat to Sri Lanka in 27 years.

India's previous bilateral ODI series defeat against the Islanders came in 1997 when the Arjuna Ranatunga-led Lankans inflicted a 0-3 hammering on Sachin Tendulkar and his men. Since then, India and Sri Lanka have played 11 bilateral ODI rubbers home and away, with the 'Men in Blue' emerging on the right side of the result in all of them.

India will not be able to win the current three-match series after succumbing to the hosts by 32 runs in the second ODI and conceding a tie in the first game. This position of discomfort is brought upon the team by the batsmen, who seemed to have been plagued by indecisiveness on a pitch that offered plenty of turn to the spinners.

Curiously, none reflected that brittleness more than star batter Kohli. He has made 38 runs in two matches, but more than the volume of runs, the manner of his dismissals evoked greater concern. Kohli looked subdued in the middle, particularly after the fiery starts given by Rohit.

Kohli just needed to build on it. But the master batter in him remained dormant as he pottered around the leg-spin of Wanindu Hasaranga in the first match and of six-wicket man Jeffrey Vandersay in the next, before eventually getting consumed by them. He looked a far cry from the dominant batsman who once cracked four hundreds at this very same venue. Perhaps, Kohli should direct his mind to happier times than allowing it to be fettered by the demons of the present. A flowing Kohli is imperative for India's healthy run in the middle overs. be it while chasing or setting a target. But then his turmoil is a true reflection of the struggle that has gripped the Indian batting unit.

In Shivam Dube, India have a designated spin-basher, but the left-hander could not even pick a regulation leg-break by Vandersay in the second onedayer, getting trapped in front of the wicket. Shreyas lyer and KL Rahul too have lorded over spinners in the past, but here their feet and wrists have been unresponsive against the Lankan slow bowlers. They seemed to be going through a temporary memory loss as to how to rotate strike, the most effective weapon to keep spinners in check on tracks such as the ones at the Premadasa.

They just need to watch the batting of Rohit to find a remedy – not so much in his approach but more in the confidence and planning behind his knocks. There is no need to gild the lily while describing Rohit's batting; still, his taming of the Lankan bowlers – pace and spin alike - has been exceptional. Often a 44-ball 64 would contain a few chancy shots, but Rohit's strokes were so well-calculated that they hardly appeared risky. Can his colleagues take a cue? From a combination perspective, the team management might look at the position of Dube, despite a 24-ball 25 in the first match. Under the existing conditions, Rivan Parag's spin, either off-spin or leg-spin, might come in handier than the honest medium pace of Dube, and the former is an equally good hard-hitter. From their part, the Indian bowlers too should improve their effort in the business end as they failed to apply finishing touches to Lanka after reducing them to 142 for six and 136 for six.

NEW DELHI, Aug 6 (Agencies): Former wicketkeeper batter Dinesh Karthik was on Tuesday signed by Paarl Royals for the third season of the SA20, making him the first Indian cricketer to participate in the South African league, starting on January 9. Karthik, 39, retired from all forms of cricket in June this vear and since then he has been roped in as a mentor-cumbatting coach by IPL side Royal Challengers Bengaluru. "I have so many fond memories of playing in and visiting South Africa, and when joining the Paarl Royals team which oozes a lot of experience, quality and potential. I am certainly looking forward to joining the group and contributing to what should be an exciting season," Karthik, who was roped in as the league ambassador a day earlier, said.

Royals' Director of Cricket, Kumar Sangakkara hoped to tap in the extensive T20 experience of Karthik.

"Dinesh has served as one of the modern-day greats for India in whiteball cricket, and his wealth of experience will contribute to the making of our side.

"He has always proved to be a great asset for the teams he's represented across leagues for the way he approaches the game and the impact he can make," said Sangakkara.

At the Royals, Karthik will join other international stars like skipper David Miller, Joe Root, Lungi Ngidi, Andile Phehlukwayo and Kwena Maphaka.

Resilient Mirabai Chanu sets sights on historic podium finish in Paris Olympics

PARIS, Aug 6 (Agencies): Away from the spotlight owing to an injury-plagued buildup, Mirabai Chanu will be in focus on Wednesday when she attempts to become India's first weightlifter to win two Olympic medals but a challenging field and lingering fitness concerns stand in the way.

The lifter, who opened India's tally on the first day of the competition at the Tokyo Olympics with a sparkling silver, has kept a low profile since suffering hip tendonitis during the Asian Games last October.

been known to be a fighter and one of the most tenacious athletes in the country.

Be it battling intense menstrual camps to win a medal in Tokyo or attempting a 117kg clean and jerk lift despite injuring herself during the Asian Games, she has shown her resolute side. Despite the absence of North Korea's Asian Games champion and world record holder medal for India in the quadrennial event.

But this time around, Lovlina could not quite step up.

However, instead of throwing in the towel, the 26-year-old said that she would be looking for a fresh start and try and return "stronger than ever".

'This is not over' "I really want to say sorry to the entire Nation that I couldn't bring a medal home this time. Especially to the people of Assam who always pray for me no matter what. I will work harder and come back stronger isn't over, looking for a fresh start once again," Lovlina wrote. Lovlina also thanked his coaches, support staff and the others, who helped her out in her journey to the Paris Olympics.

"I also want to thank all the coaches, support staff, SAI, Assam Government, BFI, Reliance Sports Foundation, IOS sports and all my sponsors for all the support and encouragement they showered on me," Lovlina added. Lovlina Borgohain's performance in Paris 2024 campaign with a stunning victory over Sunniva Hofstad from Norway. With the victory, she was only one win short of securing another medal in the showpiece. But that was not the case as China's Li Qian defeated her. Had Lovlina won her quarterfinal bout, she would have joined PV Sindhu and Manu Bhaker in the elite list of Indian women with multiple medals in the Olympics. It now remains to be seen of Lovlina returns four vears later for the Los Angeles Olympics.

Chanu has endured a rather underwhelming Olympic cycle thanks to injury and workload management.

Her best effort since Tokyo came at the 2022 Commonwealth Games where she lifted 201kg (88kg+113kg).

She had won the silver in Tokyo by heaving 202kg (87kg+115kg).

in her pet 49kg weight category, Chanu is likely to be in the scramble for a silver or bronze if she matches or betters her personal best in both sections. Reigning Olympic champion China's Hou Zhihui is the favourite to defend her title.

While there are still murmurs surrounding her fitness after she returned from a five-month hiatus following the hip injury, both Chanu and chief national coach Vijay Sharma have asserted that the Manipuri has completely recovered.

"We know that Mira has to go well beyond the 200kg mark. 202kg will not cut it this time but somewhere around 205-206kg should do it. But we are prepared for the challenge," coach Sharma told agency.

However, this is easier said than done, as the 29-year-old has struggled to surpass her personal best of 88kg in the snatch, set at the 2020 National Championships, and 119kg in clean and jerk, achieved at the 2021 Asian Championships, for quite a while.

While Chanu, who turns 30 on Thursday, will have one eye on her competitors' barbells, the Manipuri's main battle will be with herself at the South Paris Arena

Her performance in the snatch section continues to be her achilles heal and her mediocre clean and jerk performance recently also doesn't inspire confidence.

While a 90kg snatch lift continues to elude Chanu, four of her competitors have breached the coveted mark. Having said that, Chanu has Chanu has set an entry weight of 200kg alongside two others -USA's three-time Pan American champion and a world bronze medallist Jourdan Delacruz and 2021 world champion Surodchana Khambao of Thailand. She also got help from American Dr Aaron Horschig, a former weightlifter-turnedphysical therapist and strength and conditioning coach, who has been working with Chanu since 2020.

GGM Science College organizes quiz competition on "Freedom Struggle and National Heroes"

Top News Report

JAMMU, Aug 6: Continuing with the series of activities organized under the 'Swachhata Pakhwada' and in celebration of Independence Day, the NSS and NCC units of GGM Science College hosted a quiz competition focused on the theme of "Freedom Struggle and National Heroes.

This event was a part of the college's ongoing efforts to instill a sense of patriotism and awareness about India's rich history among students. The event was honored by the presence of the esteemed Principal of GGM Science College, Prof. (Dr.) Romesh Kumar Gupta.

He not only witnessed the quiz competition but also encouraged the students to actively participate in such educational and nation-building activities. His presence was a source of inspiration for all participants. He interacted with the students and briefed them about significance of national flag and its history.

The competition featured three teams, each showcasing their knowledge and understanding of India's freedom struggle and its national heroes.

The quiz was meticulously adjudged by two distinguished faculty members, Prof. Kiran Bala, Head of the Department of Biotechnology and Prof. Arti, Head of the Department of Environmental Sciences. Their expert judgment ensured a fair and competitive environment. Among the teams, Team A consisting of students Mokshi, Tanish and Ujjwal, emerged victorious, demonstrating exceptional knowledge and quick thinking. In addition to the quiz also included a cleanliness drive, further emphasizing the importance of Swachhata (cleanliness) as a part of national responsibility and civic duty. The combination of intellectual engagement and community service provided a holistic experience for the students. The event was meticulously organized by the college's dedicated faculty members, Lt. Dr. Devinder Kumar Sharma and Dr. Shafia S`aleem, Associate NCC Officers (ANOs), along with Dr. Rahul Kait and Dr. Neha Sharma, NSS Programme Officers (POs), played a pivotal role in the successful execution of the event. Their efforts ensured that the event was not only informative but also aligned with the broader objectives of the Swachhata Pakhwada and the Independence Day celebrations.
